Dear Mr. Nikolla :

I am sorry for not having been able to write to you at an earlier date and to inform you on the decision I had to make after my arrival to Calif., also due to the circumstances I had not been totally aware of before. It took me longer than I could guess to see a positive and definite solution of our problem with regard to the fact that our children have to attend and eventually finish High School in Calif. in June 1959.

As you might recall, my previous plan had been to take the family to New York. Such plan, however, had to be dropped because of the schooling of the children here. It then appeared to me that I could afford to send a regular support to my family here, since they used to live with friends and the required amount was not as high. However, the situation has experienced a change in the meantime and we have to move from the place where we live, thus, a matter involving a regular supplementary support. In other terms, the keeping of two complete households, one in New York and the other in Calif.

In view of such a situation there remained no other choice for me than to find a job here, though with a modest income and to join my family. In spite of my good will I really feel sorry to inform you that I shall not be able to comply with the part time job you kindly offered to me.

I wish to you the best and full success, and am.

sincerely yours

N.Y. Dan
